Zelee company designs are born out of a love for noble materials, a respect for simplicity of line, and the belief that one way to live green is to buy furniture that transcends cycles of fashion, and that will last beyond our lifetime. We strive to bring a sense of balance and stability to our collections, aware that well-designed rooms profoundly impact the lives lived in them. Our classical modernism considers the needs of the technological age as well as those of the human spirit, an approach that is appropriate for our time and for the future.
